

Checklist for Presentation

- Presentation answers the question, What is [name of your topic here]?
- Presentation states why physicists are researching this area.
- The physical principles on which your technology is based are clearly explained.
- Interesting biographical information and pictures of at least two scientists are included.
- Advantages and benefits of technology are clearly described and supported with references.
- Drawbacks and risks associated with the technology are clearly described and supported with references.
- Images, sounds, and/or film clips are used to enhance the content.
- All text is bulleted and readable.
- The presentation is free of grammatical errors.
- The group rehearses the presentation enough to appear relaxed and knowledgeable.
- The presentation file is loaded onto the teacher's computer or uploaded to the Internet 12 hours before the scheduled presentation time.