

Speaker Bio

Microsoft Corporation

Stefan Kinnestrand
Director of Product Management, Windows Division
Microsoft Corporation

Stefan Kinnestrand joined Microsoft in 2003 and has held various positions in OEM technical sales and marketing. In his current position as director of product management in the Windows Division he is responsible for Windows ecosystem marketing for silicon partners, OEMs, and sales channel partners.

Prior to joining Microsoft he worked as a product manager at TeliaSonera, a Swedish mobile operator, responsible for the 3G service portfolio.

A native of Stockholm, Sweden, he earned a bachelor and master's degree in electrical engineering from the Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, and an MBA from Stockholm University.