Advanced Micro Devices, Inc., et al. v. Intel Corp., et al., C.A. No. 05-441-JJF;
Phil Paul v. Intel Corp., Consolidated C.A. No. 05-485-JJF

Dear Judge Poppiti:

Class Plaintiffs write to request an order compelling third-party Tech Data Corporation ("Tech Data") to provide a witness for deposition who is capable of answering questions concerning the transactional data Tech Data has produced in this litigation. Today, June 12, 2009, Class Plaintiffs took a deposition of Tech Data Corporation ("Tech Data"), pursuant to the Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(b)(6) Subpoena and Amended Notice of Deposition attached hereto as Exhibit A. The witness that was provided by Tech Data, Lynn Hallman, was unable to answer an overwhelming majority of Class Plaintiffs' substantive questions about the transactional data produced by Tech Data. Class Plaintiffs left the deposition open and reserved their rights to continue the deposition at a later time.

Class Plaintiffs respectfully request that Your Honor order Tech Data to provide a witness for deposition that will be able to answer the questions that Ms. Hallman was not able to. We understand that such a deposition will have to take place after the close of fact discovery and we apologize for the late date of this application. Intel has represented to us that it does not intend to oppose an additional Tech Data deposition on the basis that it would take place after the fact discovery cutoff.

Counsel stand ready at your convenience to answer any questions that Your Honor may have.

Respectfully,

J. Clayton Athey
(DE Bar ID # 4378)

JCA/ms
