Re: Advanced Micro Devices, Inc., et al v. Intel Corp. and Intel Kabushiki
Kaisha, C.A. No. 05-441; MDL 1717; C.A. No. 05-485
AMD's Request for Issuance of Letters Rogatory (D.M. 26)

Dear Judge Poppiti:

In late April, the District Court granted AMD's request for issuance of a letter rogatory to the Italian judicial authority. The letter rogatory sought the Italian judiciary's assistance in obtaining from Acer Italy Srl ("Acer") factual submissions and other documents that Acer had provided to the European Commission in connection with its investigation of Intel.

AMD subsequently reached an agreement regarding discovery with Acer that requires that the letter be withdrawn. Enclosed herewith is a draft letter from the District Court to the Italian Court to which this matter was transferred, informing that court that the request for assistance is withdrawn. The letter is addressed to the Italian court directly on the advice of the Italian Foreign Ministry. AMD respectfully requests that the Special Master recommend that the District Court issue the letter.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Chad M. Shandler
