Re: AMD v. Intel -- Evidence Preservation Demand

Dear Mr. Lu:

We are writing to advise you that our clients, Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. and AMD International Sales & Service, Ltd. (collectively, "AMD"), initiated antitrust litigation today against Intel Corporation and Intel Kabushiki Kaisha (collectively, "Intel") in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware. A copy of the complaint is enclosed for your reference.

Based on information we collected during our pre-filing investigation, we believe that your Company possesses important information relevant to AMD's claims against Intel. Accordingly, at the earliest possible time the District Court allows us to do so, we intend to serve on your Company a subpoena for the production of certain categories of documents bearing upon matters that AMD's complaint puts at issue.

In the meantime, however, this letter will put you on notice of the litigation, your likely involvement as a third-party witness, and your consequent obligation to take reasonable steps to preserve relevant evidence. To assist you in doing so, we have attached as Schedule A a list of document categories that we expect to ask you to produce. To make document retention manageable, except for records necessary to respond to the "Purchase History" category, we are only asking that you retain these documents for the custodians listed on Schedule B, or documents stored on their behalf or accessible by them in the normal course wherever located.

This, of course, includes documents stored in electronic format, whether in active files or on back-up media and whether in personal folders or shared files.

Preservation of relevant evidence will require adequate notice to and follow-up with the listed custodians, and we suspect it may require the suspension of certain routine document retention procedures. To the extent this threatens to disrupt unduly any normal business operations, we invite you to contact us to discuss procedures or limitations that might address and alleviate the burdens on your Company. My partner, David Herron, will be available this week to assist. He can be reached at (213) 430-6230 and by email at dherron@omm.com. In his absence, please contact James Pearl at (310) 246-8434, email jpearl@omm.com.

We encourage you to take your preservation obligations seriously. Once on notice of pending federal-court litigation, document destruction by a nonparty could lead to criminal and/or civil liability. See 18 U.S.C. § 1503; 18 U.S.C. § 1519; 18 U.S.C. § 1512(b) & (c); Hannah v. Heeter, 584 S.E.2d 560 (W.Va. 2003) (recognizing tort against third-party spoliators). As I am sure you understand, the laws and rules prohibiting destruction of tangible evidence apply equally to electronically-stored information. Zubalake v. UBS Warburg LLC, 217 F.R.D. 309, 317 (S.D.N.Y. 2003).

Please kindly acknowledge receipt of this letter and of your Company's commitment to preserve the materials we have identified by signing and returning (by fax to (310) 246-6779 or email) the enclosed copy. We recognize that it is short notice, but would ask that you do so by noon PDT on Thursday, June 30, 2005, since we anticipate reporting to the Court before the week's end any instances of non-cooperation.

Sincerely,

Charles P. Diamond

Dear Mr. Shahbazi:

We are writing to advise you that our clients, Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. and AMD International Sales & Service, Ltd. (collectively, "AMD"), initiated antitrust litigation today against Intel Corporation and Intel Kabushiki Kaisha (collectively, "Intel") in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware. A copy of the complaint is enclosed for your reference.

Based on information we collected during our pre-filing investigation, we believe that your Company possesses important information relevant to AMD's claims against Intel. Accordingly, at the earliest possible time the District Court allows us to do so, we intend to serve on your Company a subpoena for the production of certain categories of documents bearing upon matters that AMD's complaint puts at issue.

In the meantime, however, this letter will put you on notice of the litigation, your likely involvement as a third-party witness, and your consequent obligation to take reasonable steps to preserve relevant evidence. To assist you in doing so, we have attached as Schedule A a list of document categories that we expect to ask you to produce. To make document retention manageable, except for records necessary to respond to the "Purchase History" category, we are only asking that you retain these documents for the custodians listed on Schedule B, or documents stored on their behalf or accessible by them in the normal course wherever located. This, of course, includes documents stored in electronic format, whether in active files or on back-up media and whether in personal folders or shared files.

Preservation of relevant evidence will require adequate notice to and follow-up with the listed custodians, and we suspect it may require the suspension of certain routine document retention procedures. To the extent this threatens to disrupt unduly any normal business operations, we invite you to contact us to discuss procedures or limitations that might address and alleviate the burdens on your Company. My partner, David Herron, will be available this week to assist. He can be reached at (213) 430-6230 and by email at dherron@omm.com. In his absence, please contact James Pearl at (310) 246-8434, email jpearl@omm.com.

We encourage you to take your preservation obligations seriously. Once on notice of pending federal-court litigation, document destruction by a nonparty could lead to criminal and/or civil liability. See 18 U.S.C. § 1503; 18 U.S.C. § 1519; 18 U.S.C. § 1512(b) and (c); Hannah v. Heeter, 584 S.E.2d 560 (W.Va. 2003) (recognizing tort against third-party spoliators). As I am sure you understand, the laws and rules prohibiting destruction of tangible evidence apply equally to electronically-stored information. Zubalake v. UBS Warburg LLC, 217 F.R.D. 309, 317 (S.D.N.Y. 2003).

Please kindly acknowledge receipt of this letter and of your Company's commitment to preserve the materials we have identified by signing and returning (by fax to (310) 246-6779 or email) the enclosed copy. We recognize that it is short notice, but would ask that you do so by noon PDT on Thursday, June 30, 2005, since we anticipate reporting to the Court before the week's end any instances of non-cooperation.

Sincerely,

Charles P. Diamond
